

On the Green

EDWARD MINER GALLAUDET MEMORIAL LIBRARY
GALLAUDET COLLEGE
WASHINGTON, D. C.

VOL. V, NO. 32

May 26, 1976

BELL ASSOCIATION PRESENTS PAPERS

The Alexander Graham Bell Association for the Deaf has given the College a rare collection of periodicals, books and papers. Among the 4000 bound volumes is an extensive collection of periodicals from the Little Paper Family, a group of publications published by schools and organizations for the deaf. Many of the items of the collection date back to the nineteenth century.

The materials have been gradually transferred from the Volta Bureau to our Library during the past year and are presently being shelved in the Edward Miner Gallaudet Room. The information will be put on microfilm.

Dr. Breunig, president-elect of the A.G. Bell Association, and Mr. Miller from the Volta Bureau staff, accepted on behalf of the Bell Association a citation of appreciation presented by our Board of Directors at last week's meeting.

AFFIRMATIVE ACTION PLAN ACCEPTED

The College received notice last week from the Department of Health, Education and Welfare that our Affirmative Action Plan had been approved. The plan sets forth goals by the College to overcome the institution's underutilization of women and minorities in faculty and staff positions.

Any organization which holds a government contract of $50,000 or more and has 50 or more employees must have such a plan. Gallaudet is one of only six other colleges or universities in Region III, which includes Maryland, D.C., Virginia, West Virginia and Pennsylvania, to have its program for affirmative action accepted by HEW.

DR. ELSTAD INTRODUCES NEW WIFE TO CAMPUS

Dr. Leonard Elstad, who retired as president of Gallaudet College in 1969, visited Kendall Green during Commencement week. His new wife, whom he married in January, accompanied him.

At the opening of the Board of Directors meeting, Dr. Elstad introduced his new bride and explained that he had finally married his college sweetheart who turned him down in 1922. The Elstads are maintaining homes in Minnesota and Georgia.

POSITIONS AVAILABLE

SECRETARY II: Audiology and Speech

SECRETARY II: MSSD

SECRETARY II: Library

SECRETARY II: Counseling and Placement

COUNSELOR/ADMINISTRATOR: Community Service Center

SCUBA DIVING INSTRUCTOR: Physical Education and Athletics

TRADES HELPER: Structural Services

TRADES HELPER: Building Maintenance

AUTOMOTIVE MECHANIC: Transportation Department

ELECTRICIAN: Building Maintenance

SENIOR SOFTWARE PROGRAMMER: Computer Center

STAFF PHYSICIAN: Student Health Services

COORDINATOR FOOD SERVICE PROGRAMS:

Student Affairs

DATA CLERK/TESTING ASSISTANT: Signed English Project

FIRST CLASS STATIONARY ENGINEER:

Utilities Services

ASSOCIATE LIBRARIAN: Library

SAFETY AND SECURITY OFFICER:

Safety and Security

SECRETARY I: Counseling Department

SECRETARY I: Kendall School

PLANNING ASSISTANT: Planning Office
ACCOUNTING CLERK: Accounting
LEARNING RESOURCE CENTER ASSISTANT: MSSD
ASSOCIATE LIBRARIAN (Graduate Services/
Instructor in Library Science): Library ASSOCIATE LIBRARIAN (Orientation and Instruction): Library
INSTRUCTORS: MSSD
ASSOCIATE PROFESSOR: Psychology
INSTRUCTORS: Kendall School
RESIDENT ADVISOR: MSSD
INSTRUCTOR/ASSISTANT PROFESSOR: Business
Administration Department
Gallaudet College is an equal opportunity employer.

AMONG OURSELVES

--James Pickett has been serving this week as a participant at a conference on Basic Research on Language: Implications for School and Clinic. The conference has been organized by the National Institute of Childhood Health and Development and is being held in Belmont, Maryland.
--Fred Brandt, also of the Sensory Communication Research Lab, is attending the 1976 Spring Symposium of the Digital Equipment Corporation Users Society from May 25 through 28, in Atlanta, Georgia. He will be presenting a paper concerning the SCRL's computerized system for testing hearing.
--At a recent convention of Lions International, Frank Turk was given an award for serving as an outstanding secretary of his chapter, the Alexandria-Potomac Lions Club. His chapter's newsletter was also recognized for its excellence.
--Al Pimentel recently completed serving a two-year term as president of the Teletypewriters for the Deaf, Inc. Bob Lankenau of Ohio is the new president of the 5000 member organization.
--Earlier this month, Jerry Ward delivered the keynote address for the spring meeting of the Division of Instructional Services, Prince George's County Public Schools.

GALLAUDET IN THE NEWS

A front page story about Gallaudet College appeared in the May 18th issue of the Wall Street Journal. The feature story was written by Roger Ricklefs, who spent several days on Kendall Green in early April.

The May issues of three children's magazines, Child Life, Jack and Jill and Young World, contain articles on deafness and Gallaudet College written by Donna Chitwood of the Alumni and Public Relations staff.

AROUND AND ABOUT

--Art, photography and craft entries are now being accepted for an exhibition during the GCAA Reunion, June 13-20. Please contact the Office of Alumni and Public Relations for more information.
--If you are interested in joining a group to review basic signs during the summer, please contact Leon LeBuffe.
--The Gallaudet Dancers performed at the Kennedy Center during the President's Committee on Employment of the Handicapped Annual Meeting. They will also be participating in "Happy Birthday, USA" at the Kennedy Center on July 5th.
--A group of 40 Rotary presidents and their wives were on campus Sunday for brunch and a tour of the LOOK OF SOUND.

PORTRAIT OF WASHBURN GIVEN TO GALLAUDET

A striking portrait of Cadwallader Washburn, noted dry-point etcher, was recently presented to Gallaudet College by Mr. Mario Santin '24. Mr. Santin commissioned William Sparks, a deaf artist living in North Carolina, to do the portrait from a photograph which Mr. Santin received from Washburn some years ago. The painting will be hung in the Arts Center.

TAKE A DIP

From now until June 27, the pool will be open to staff and faculty for recreational swimming during the following hours:

Monday - Friday	11:30 a.m. - 1 p.m. 4-6 p.m. 7:30-9:30 p.m.
Saturday and Sunday	1-5 p.m. 7-9:30 p.m.